Youngest son of founders of Zabar's (New York's landmark West Side deli), Eli Zabar launched his second fresh-food market, Eli's in 1998. Taste is adjacent to the market, a restaurant devised to pair small plates and changing entrées with Eli's favorite regional wines.

Drop in after work to sample affordable wines by the glass, and be sure to order something (like roasted eggplant and tomato tart or baby burgers on brioche) to nosh on. Dinner and brunch are full-service with appealing American cooking that's always full of flavor. At breakfast and lunch the setting is more relaxed and food is presented cafeteria-style. The menu always represents the tasty, home-style fare Eli's is known for—cooked better at his place than yours.
