

THINGS TO DO

Super Bowl parties in NYC: Head to these bars to watch the big game

By Dana Reszutek dana.reszutek@amny.com February 5, 2017

Watching the Super Bowl is the Sunday Funday to top all Sunday Funday.

Bars are filled to the brim, food and drink specials abound and, win or lose, you can still have fun.

So, on Feb. 5, lock down your plans to watch the New England Patriots take on the Atlanta Falcons -- and Lady Gaga take the stage for halftime -- at these local spots.

Eli's Night Shift

This late-night bar and eatery will be hosting a viewing party for the first time -- thanks to a new big-screen TV. Stop by the Upper East Side spot for a variety of game day eats, from their Night Shift Nachos ($12) to wings, which will be offered at 10 for $18. If you're heading to the Night Shift in a large group, feel free to snag a reservation, and enjoy a growler of craft beer for the table. (189 East 79th St., Manhattan, 4 p.m., elizabar.com)

(Credit: Eli's Night Shift)